PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMISSION OF INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS:
Wm. B. Burford, Contractor for State Printing
1905

The Public Library Commission of Indiana recognizes the educational value of Study Clubs, and will assist them in gaining greater continuity in work and method. Fifty of the one hundred and forty-two Traveling Libraries have been selected with reference to the study of special topics. The Commission will consider others as requested, and will endeavor to meet the demand for particular books on a given subject.

Members of clubs are asked to co-operate with the Commission in its efforts to place the Traveling Libraries in unincorporated towns and farm homes. If the clubs of each county will become responsible for its reading, Traveling Libraries will reach many communities which are now deprived of books.

These Libraries are available to any Study Club complying with the conditions under which the Traveling Libraries are procured. Applications should be sent to the Public Library Commission, Room 58, State House, Indianapolis, Ind.
